

Expect a Miracle

2024-07-06

Beloved, and Holy and only child of our Heavenly Father, child of the One Source, child of light, Divine. That is who you are. I am the one known as Jeshua Ben Joseph. Jesus, you have called me, and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this afternoon in your timing, to relive to re-feel, to re-know the Allness of Divine Spirit. Because in truth, as the bodies sit on the chairs or wherever, it seems to be a bit of separation. And yet, I would say unto you that there is no separation.

There is only love. There is only the feeling, the knowing, the living of oneness. That is where you are in this moment, in the space of Oneness, knowing that truly you are the one and only Christ, going forward having a human experience, whether you like it or not. You have chosen to be here in this time with form to show, display for others that yes, you can have form, yes, you can be of the heart. And yes, you are Christ always, always and forever, as the spirit of one going forward.

You, with the bodies, are the courageous ones. You have said in many lifetimes, "I will go forth and speak with my brothers and sisters in a way that they understand. And I will remember it is the Christ energy that does the work, that does the loving, that does the inspiration, the intaking of Spirit, and allowing it to come forth in joy."

Because truly, as you are experiencing, you are feeling an upliftment. There are the human problems, yes, there are the things I have to solve. There is this appointment I have to keep. There are contingencies upon everything, seemingly, in this world. But in truth, you are the orchestrator and you are the one who is choosing how you will interpret and act. And I will not even say react, although that's a habitual way of acting, is to react as you have done in other lifetimes.

This lifetime you are saying, "I will choose anew. I will choose to see it as part of the Oneness going forward. To feel at one with the trees, with the plants, with the rushing water, with the birds in the air, to know my Oneness with my brother, sister, and to know that I have shared all lifetimes as One."

For truly you are the adventurers. You have said, "I will be the adventurer. I will take form, I will go forward, sometimes backward, and I will experience everything in the human form." And, beloved ones, you have many, many lifetimes when you have come as the four-footed ones to give and receive love. Oftentimes, the beloved pet that you have in your house is there to love you, to serve you, to demand that you feed it and that you express the love to it. You will pet and be petted by the love and the kisses.

As you would be seeing, the beloved pet here in this room is giving the kisses to its partner. I will not say owner, but its partner sharing life together. There is a love that you feel, that you know with a beloved pet. There is also a feeling of spirit. Some beloved pets can be very spirited. And sometimes you try to put this into a form, that of behavior, that it does not want to do. Same as with the human brothers and sisters. And it's all an experience, a beloved, loving experience. So truly, you go forward in love, no matter where you are, no matter what you are doing, no matter how you have chosen to express. You are love, in form and beyond form.

I have said unto you my commandment, "I give unto you, to love one another as I have loved you, to love the whole spirit of you, otherwise known as the Holy Spirit of you, and to love that which you are in essence. And to know that truly you are the courageous one, the one of the heart, to go forward in a human lifetime that is not always the easiest." I know. I was here with human form, and I know how it can be as you experience the ups and downs of a body.

"How do I go with this heavy body?" you say, as you are the infant. "How am I going to express divinity with this thing? How do I move it? How do I go forward in the physicality?" And you have learned and you have expressed. Sometimes lifetimes when you were as the crippled one who was sat by the door of the temple and asked for alms, where the gifts of one would give to you to sustain the body if you were not able to work for it in a physical way. And you have been the recipient of love. And there has been throughout that lifetime, finally, not always at first, but a feeling of Oneness with a brother or sister who will give to you the alms, the money to support you, the foodstuff, and the smile that says, "Brother, we are of the same spirit."

You have been the one sitting by the temple door many lifetimes. You have been the beggar sitting on the corner where ones would come to market and you would say, "Alms for the poor." And yet at the same time, as a gift was given to you, you would recognize Oneness and know that you are not poor in spirit. You were, as teachers, many lifetimes, to be sitting with a body that would not work, but to be sitting with a body that had the Spirit expressing and giving forth love to the brothers and sisters as you would smile.

Many times they would see a radiance about you and they would think, "Oh, poor brother, sister, sitting there." And then there would be a knowing, "There am I as well." So you are, as you have understood, teachers one to another. You have volunteered that yes, you will walk with a human form, or maybe not. And you will get by one way or another. And, surprise of surprises, some mornings you would feel like smiling. "Wow, can that be? I cannot move this body. Someone has to come and move me around. And yet, I feel the warmth of the sunshine. I feel the liquidity of the rainfall. I feel the gentle breeze blowing around me. And I praise to the heavens for life in physicality and beyond." And always this is true.

You are the expression of physical life as you are here activating the body. But more than that, you are the spirit of the Christ. Overcoming all of the shortcomings, as you call them, of human life, and going forward to smile upon brothers and sisters and say, "We are One. Thank you for sharing the life with me. Thank you for sharing the smile." Even if they would reach into the pocket and come forth and say, "I'm sorry, I don't have a coin to give you, but such as I have, I will give unto you. The smile, the laugh, the warmth."

And you have done this many lifetimes, where you have been the one sitting by the temple door, and you have also been the one walking by. And at first, oh, you were so busy in the mind that you didn't even see who, what was around you. And then there was an awakening. "Oh, there is a brother, there is a sister, and they cannot move. What can I do for them?" And your heart opened. It was, as you will term it, a miracle. Because you came alive in that moment and you realized, you made real in your awareness, the oneness of the Christ. And if you had what is called the looking glass, the mirror to look in at that moment, you would see the energy of yourself giving out powerful energy of the Christ, saying, "I too am paralyzed in Oneness, but I as the Spirit have overcome." All of you have hear the words.

You have known lifetimes when you did not hear the words, when you were not able to move the appendages of the body, when you were seemingly at others' mercy to take care of you, to feed you, to bathe you, to walk you where you needed to be. And you have turned around in another lifetime and you have done the same for them. Nothing is ever done in isolation. Always it is a partnership. Always it is a togetherness of the Holy Spirit. W-H-O-L-E, Holy Spirit going forward, the Christ as it is called.

All of you are welcome in the Father's house, in my house, anytime, and in my beloved friend and teacher, known as Judith, in her home. She is happy to have you there. We were having a conversation this morning about the feeling of physical loneliness and the feeling how happy it is when you come together, brothers and sisters, as Christ embodied and yet as that spirit that goes forth and says, I am you. I understand. I know where you are in certain feelings that you are going through. I understand. I have been there. I, as one Jeshua, I have been there. That is why I took human life, the form. I did not have to. You do not have to.

"Yeshua, I thought this was foisted upon me somehow. I didn't think I asked for this." Yes, in truth, you did. You asked to know the human life, to know how rich you are, how you can be in sorrow one moment and laughing the next moment. I have seen every one of you do that magic trick where, "Oh, it's so sad, this life, it's just terrible!" And then a friend has called you on your phone, and you have said, "Oh, it's so bad." And they have said, "I understand. I am with you. Do you want me to come in the physicality and be with you?" And sometimes you have said yes, and they have come. And sometimes you have said, "Well, no, but the phone call, I am so happy that you have called me. I am so happy."

For other ones as they have written the note that has gone in the mail and you have received and you have said, "You know, there's at least one person who knows that I am alive on this earth." And I have seen you in lifetimes, perhaps this lifetime, perhaps others, where you have taken that writing and you have put it in a frame and hung it up on the wall or on your mirror.

I see you in the mornings when you check your mirror. And you have had it there to read and remind you, you are never alone. You have the physical friends, you have the spiritual friends always with you. So rejoice and be glad. Know that when you do the rejoicing, you up your amplitude of energy and it goes forth to the farthest reaches of physicality. The farthest reaches of what you call your planetary earth.

You have been the recipient on some days from someone you will never see in this lifetime but they have been praying for what they would call the lost souls and on that morning you were feeling lost and their energy came and you thought, "Where did that come from I don't feel as bad as I thought I was going to feel." Miracle of miracles. There is a oneness. Always, beloved ones, you are spirit and you are joined. Never are you alone. Other times, you are alone as a one, yes, to know the oneness of the Christ. But the physicality, it is a bit of a falsehood. Think upon this. This evening in your timing, when you come to a certain quietness, think about the physicality and how it is only part of who and what you are. You are the Christ going forward, having a human experience. And it is very good.

But it is not all that you are. You are the Christ awakening. Coming home to the reality of you that is the true spirit of love, that energizing spirit that says the human life may not be the easiest, — and it isn't. Ask me, I know. But the human life also knows love, and the spirit not only knows love, but is love, and cannot be overcome by the workings of the earth, not the world. We choose world, the word, there, not earth.

Beloved ones, rejoice. This is your season when everything is growing, and you have noticed. In your evening, you put the head upon the pillow, and the next morning, you look out at the green grass growing, and it has grown a foot. And you think, "But I just put it into order. I mowed it, I trimmed the edges yesterday, and look at it now!" And yes, it is like you. This is exactly what you are doing in your lifetime. You are coming alive, and you are growing, and you are expressing, and you are having fun with it. Yes, you are going out and you are saying, "It is good to be alive, and oh my God, the bills I have to pay."

I see you working in what you would call duality. In other words, knowing the spirit of you, knowing the joy of you, sharing with the brothers and sisters, the smile on the face. And also thinking in the mind, "How am I going to make the payments that I have to pay?" Always you will be taken care of. Always. It is a truth of your being that it will come through. And you have experienced this. You have known at the very last moment something happened. And the money was there, or part of it, enough to allow the ones who keep track of all the numbers to know that, "Yes, you're OK for it. I'll trust you one more month for this." And it always, always works out. And it will. Always.

The Christ Spirit of you that has accepted the humanhood, which is not the easiest, will see you through. And if it comes to the place where there is not the foodstuff to eat, or there may not be a place to put the head at night, you will be taken care of. You have already experienced this. You have already come to the place where you have thought, "I am all alone. There's no one here to take care of me — No one." Then a feeling has come over you. "I and my Father are One. I don't really know what that means, but I think it means I'm going to have an experience of being taken care of. Hard to believe. Who would take care of me? I'm just a little thing. I'm not really worth much."

And then someone has come and smiled at you. And you have thought, "You smiled at me? You see me? I didn't think anyone could see me." Yes. You are seen and you are loved. Go forth and allow that love to flow through you. Because there are many in this day and time of ones who feel totally left out, feeling that they are not worth anything. And therefore they have thought "I'm going to prove to you I'm worth something. I'm going to burn down your house. Then you'll acknowledge me." Well, it's kind of the wrong way to go about it.

But there are ones of the brothers and sisters who feel at a place where they do not know any further to go, any other way to go. And yet I will say unto you that if you pass them by on the street and you stop for a moment and smile at them, they will wonder first of all, "Uh-oh, what do they want?" And then second of all, "They smiled at me. I didn't think anybody could see me."

Yes, you do see them. And yes, you know, "There but for the choice of the human outworking go" In other words, you have in other lifetimes, you have been the beggar who sat there hoping that someone would give to you the next morsel that would take you perhaps into their home and allow you to get warmed up again.

You have been the beggar who said in the mind, "I know I don't look like much, but hey, I need help." And someone has felt that. Yes, you are joined in vibration. In spirit, you are joined to everyone else who has chosen the physical incarnation, yes. And at the same time, you are surrounded by spirit ones who are praying for you, encouraging you, saying, "Believe, feel, you're not alone, apart from being alone or "all-one". Yes, your language, your words are teachers, but you are not singular and left out in the cold.

Your world sometimes can feel as a cold place. Everyone is so busy. Everyone is going, taking care of all of their things, the activities that they feel they have to do, and they don't even see me. Sometimes you feel that way. And yet there is what has been termed the aura, the light around you, that interacts with others' lights even as you pass by. There is an acknowledgment that something has happened. And sometimes you have been the beggar sitting on the corner of the street and passers-by have passed by and they have felt all of a sudden, "What was that?" It has been your energy as you have known oneness at that moment and felt what ones would call the miracle. "I have felt a passer-by. I have felt something. What was that?" It has been someone who have stopped for a moment in your hurried thinking and you have acknowledged there's one asking for oneness, for love, to be recognized. And you have recognized them.

"There but for the travails of life go I", you have said to yourself. And all of a sudden something has happened within your thinking, and you have realized, you've made real in your memory, "Oh, I've been there. Oh my God, how I suffered. Oh, this poor one who is sitting with a bowl feels that they have nothing." You will give unto them a token, but it will be a token for them to understand that they are calling it forth. Not that they are saying, "I am such a sinner, no one can acknowledge me, but someone actually saw me. Someone actually reached in their pocket, brought out something, and put it in the bowl."

I give unto you a task. In the next seven days, you will awaken to one who is asking. They may be asking physically for the help that you will give them in the golden coins or paper, or they may be asking for you to befriend, to look at them, to really see them, to see the Christ of them. That is acting a part, and all of you are acting a part. When you came into this physicality, you said, "Okay, I have been born into such and such a family, and there are certain rules of this family, I accept that." And the physicality, some of you have accepted the physicality that looks like it needs help, or the mental, that looks like it needs help. So that one can stop on their passing by and they can say, "I give unto you that which I have."

You know, your brothers and sisters, most of them are going to be saying, "I do not have much. I'm just getting by." There are some of them who have more than they can count, but for the most part, most of them have things that are already earmarked, as they call it, for certain things in life to have to pay for. And so they say, "Well, I don't have much left over. But such as I have, I will share with you." And you have seen this. You have known this. And you have felt it in the heart that has said, "Yes, I understand. I don't have much on me today. I only have a few dollars." But you have reached out and you have given, and you have saved one from the pit of despair.

Now all of you have been at the pit of despair one lifetime or another, probably this lifetime again. A review, as you call it, a re-looking at, where you have said, "How am I going to have this month's rent money?" And then a miracle has happened. Or the one that you owed it to said, "I know that you are kind of short on the cash right now, and so we can put it off for another week." And you have said, "Thank you. Wow, that was a miracle." I have heard you, each and every one of you, do the deep breath and say, that was a miracle.

And in truth, in human terms, yes, because that one has awakened to the heart and has said, not in words perhaps, but they have said, "There but for the grace of God go I or I have gone."

At a place where I thought, "I'm not going to make this month's rent and I have a family. What is going to become of my family?" And then someone has said, "Could you use an extra $10 After you use it, later on, pass it on to someone else who needs it." Miracles, miracles. A change happens. And I do not mean loose coins. I mean a change in thinking has come about. "There but for the grace of God go I, and I have been there, and I know that feeling." Wow! I have seen all of you have an experience equal to that. Pass it on. It does a body good, and the spirit good.

Now, beloved ones remember that you are here in concert with the brothers and sisters. You have agreed before the incarnation that you will walk with the others, that you will support them in ways that uplifts them as well. In physicality, yes, but also in the spirit, to come awake, to come alive, to come to that feeling of knowing, I and my brother, sister, are one. I understand what they are going through because if I have not experienced it in this lifetime, I have in another lifetime. And I know you can feel a bit scared and you wonder, "What is going to happen to the physicality?"

When you pass by someone on the street corner and they have the bowl or the hat, whatever, asking for some help. Stop. See the Christ of them. What would happen if all of a sudden you woke up and you realized, "It's Jeshua. He's here on the street corner. Well, I'll have to give him something." Oh yes, your brother, your sister, Jeshua, in whatever bodily form, needs you, wants to be recognized, wants to be uplifted, wants to see the smile where you have recognized, I see you, I truly see you. I will help.

Because you have been there. You, who now feel taken care of, you feel you have the golden coins and the paper to see you through. Share of what you have with ones. You will feel a gifting in the heart of you.

You're shaking your head yes. You know the feeling because, as I have said, you have been there. You know what it feels like to wonder, "Where is my next meal going to come from?" And you pass by the eating place, and ones are eating away, and you're thinking, "Oh, that would be so nice to go in and be able to sit down to a meal". Next time you see someone who looks like they could use a good meal, ask them. "Say, come. Come and share my table with me." You will be surprised at the gifting. You think you are doing the gifting. But they are giving to you a gift of being allowed to help them, to share. You will be surprised how it feels. "But Yeshua, what if they want to press me for too much?" There is never too much.

You, beloved one, have been the recipient many lifetimes of the outpouring of love in the physical form of the coin, golden coins. You have been the recipient. You have walked there.

You have agonized. And you have been uplifted by someone who stopped for a moment and thought, "Oh, I understand." And they have reached into their pouch and they have given to you not only the golden coin, but the acknowledgement of brotherhood, sisterhood, which is truly the coin without measure, that knowing that I am my brother, I am my sister, I am sharing life and helping. Because never do you walk alone. You walk with the brother, the sister in Christ. Do not forget the Father loves you and all of the creation.

Same goes for the beloved pet or dog, cat, whatever. If you have a little extra, feed them. They will appreciate it. Same with the birds. Put out the birdseed or whatever. It is a way of knowing God.

"Well, I thought God was only in the temple." God is on four feet. God is on two feet. God flies with wings. God is everywhere. Stop. Look. Know God is all around you. Share.

This is a time in your hemisphere, as you call it, on planet earth, where the season allows you a bit more warmth. And that is very good for the ones who are unhoused. And it is a bit of blessing for them. But keep in mind, that is passing. All of human life, as you have noticed, you are all of a certain age that you can understand. All of human life is passing.

You have known lifetimes when you have been the one who sat on the corner and you could not walk, but you had the bowl. And if someone passed by and put something in your bowl, some of the coins or even the outright food, you were blessed and they were blessed by the giving of it.

Allow yourself to know that there is no separation. Have we said that before? There is no separation. In that lifetime, when you see the poor one who is on the street corner, know that in another lifetime you have been there, hoping that someone would notice you, hoping that someone may give you a golden coin so that you can eat for that day, or better yet, inviting you to come home with them and share a meal. And you have said, "Yes, I will come with you and I will be your servant. I will help you with the household chores. I will help you. What kind of business are you in? You tend the cattle? Yes, I can help with that." And you have made what you understand to be a partnership on the human level, yes, birthed from the divine partnership.

Not one of you is alone. The essence of you is the same Godhood. The essence of you may choose different ways to experience, and you may choose to be servant one to another, to say, "I don't have anything. The stomach is rumbling. It is talking to me. I feel weak. I need the food stuff." And so you have stopped, and you have seen them. You have seen a brother, a sister. You have seen one who, in truth, if you will stop for a moment and take it in This one that you look upon has truly, in other lifetimes, been your brother, sister, mother, father. Nothing is ever isolated.

So if there is someone that you are passing by and you feel a tug in the heart, it is because, yes, first of all, you have been there where they are. Second of all, you have been brother or sister, that close, and you have shared with them. The spirit of you is joined as one. Allow yourself to be in oneness with the brother, with the sister. Know that truly everyone is God's child, God's family. Doesn't matter if you are Presbyterian, Methodist, Evangelical, Catholic, whatever. Doesn't matter. You've been all of those denominations, as you call them, in other lifetimes.

Nothing is new under the sun. You have been there and done that. You have been the priest who said the holy words and yet did not see the brothers and sisters who suffer. You've been the holy one, the evangelical sister who has tended the wounded and the ones who have needed the physical help. You have been there. You have been the one receiving. There is nothing that you have not experienced.

"Oh my God!" Yes, it's true. You have been there, done that. That is why the resonating heart of you opens up when you see someone who is in a state of thinking that they lack for something. You know that feeling you've been there. Stop. Give. And then receive, knowing that as you have given. It has poured forth through you and has blessed you as well. Blessed you by the Holy Spirit.

Maybe you did not at that point need the foodstuff. Maybe at that point you didn't need the raincoat. But you were gifted at knowing that "I am one with all". And you are. And there are ones of you who are listening to these words and you are feeling, "Yeah, you know, I've tried that, Jeshua. And I know the feeling of Oneness. And by God, it's overpowering sometimes." And it is.

It is a blessing to the giver and a blessing to the receiver. Try it, you might like it. You have that saying in your world, and I always think, I like that saying, try it, you might like it. And by golly, you do.

Beloved ones, know how fortunate you are with the human life. Even those of you who are at this moment in time at what would be called death's door, lying in a bed perhaps somewhere. You have experienced human life and the gifting in it. You have found that even at your weakest moment, you can smile and know how blessed you are. Because you are the spirit of, how do I put this for you, the spirit of Allness, of Oneness, of Godhood, having a human experience.

And that is well and good. I wanted to know, I chose human experience several times over. That lifetime that is so famous, my lifetime, was not the only one that I had. I enjoyed human life. I came many times and even after the resurrection and I came back to experience.

How does it feel to experience godhood? "The body was deceased and yet I can rise it up." That was a bit of an aha for me. I wasn't quite sure. I heard the tales that it could be done, but it is, as every human experience, you do not really know it until you do it. And so, I did it. You know, I have been, down through the ages, put upon a pedestal as the one and only son of God. I am not the only one. I am not the only one as daughter of God. I am not the only one to come and speak to you of words of inspiration, saying that, "Yes, there is a human life, but there is more." That is why your advertising sometimes hits home. And there is more. Good advertising. And also a truth of your being. Yes, form is good. Yes, but there's more.

It is the spirit of you come alive, knowing that truly I walk as physical, but I run as Spirit. Always and forever, you are the Spirit of God, of Allness, of the Almighty.

All of the words that have been used to describe the essence of you, the Christ-essence of you, and yet it cannot be described in words, but it can be known.

I have seen all of you in your prayer times, in your meditation times. I've seen all of you in that moment of giving to another one who needed something, and the heart, your heart, opened. And you gave of yourself, the Holy Self of you. I have seen you come alive in the Spirit of God, Goddess All That Is.

Allow yourself in what you see to be the next 24 hours to be in that Spirit that you are. Know that it is Spirit activating the form. Reach out and hug. Know that there is Oneness. Not just two bodies coming together, but spirit of Oneness. Know that as the heart opens and you give the golden coins to someone who needs it more than you do, okay? But you've been there, you've done that, you've felt that, you've felt like, "Oh my God, if I don't get something to eat, I'm going to perish." The body's going to perish. So, expect a miracle.

That is today's message to take with you. Expect a miracle. Know that truly you are walking, talking, miracle. You are expressing the spirit of Christ in love. You are the miracle on two feet. You are the miracle on four feet. You are the miracle that does not need the feet as it flies. You are the miracle who looks and sees the brother, the sister, the other animated form, and you say, there is the Godhood that I am.

Because in truth, beloved one, if you will accept it, you have known the activation of the giant dinosaur. You have been the dinosaur. "Oh my God, Yeshua, is that why I'm so big and heavy in this lifetime?" Know you that the dinosaur was quite slim and trim, big, yes, but not fat.

You do not need to cast, as they call, aspersions upon the dinosaur for being fat and heavy. Heavy, yes, not so fat. That's the lesson for today. Do not judge dinosaur for being fat.

Allow yourself to know that every life form is a miracle. Every life form is reaching out in love. That is why you have the pets, as you call them, so that your heart opens and you see them as objects of giving love and of receiving love. Allow yourself to radiate love. And I see you as you work with the understanding of Oneness. As you see the beloved pet, the beloved bird that flies, the miracle that a bird, tiny little thing, can fly to the top of the tallest tree. Wow!

Think of the miracle. Think of the bird that says, "Oh, there's nothing to it. You just do this and pretty soon you're at the top of the tree." I know, humans do this as much as they want to (flapping arms) and it does not take them to the top of the tree. Okay. I digress. But you are a walking, living, speaking miracle. You are God in essence on two feet, four feet, no feet. There is the God-essence of you, alive and well. Allow yourself to vibrate with it. Allow yourself to smile and to give to other ones the encouragement of, "Yes, I see you, and yes, you are the living, breathing, walking Christ." You may not say it in those words because they would not perhaps accept it, but you will smile at them.

You may even say, "You know, I know this restaurant. It's really a good place to eat and I need to, I want to share. Will you come with me?"

"You're inviting me to go to a restaurant with you?"

"Yes, have you had any better offer?"

"Well, no."

"Come on."

And you have broken any ice that was around. You have broken the ice, as they say, And there's a warmth, a warmth of being that says, we are one.

Come and tell me your story. Everyone, including the four-footed ones, including the winged ones, all have their story. And as you tune into it, you find that God, the essence of life, is everywhere. "And I thought it was only with the good churchgoers."

Yes, they are, but all is. And beloved ones, all is truly well. So be it.

Judi - He has such fun. There is so much love that he feels. And when he looks out and he sees you, and he looks out through the mechanical means, whatever, he can feel the energy there as well. And there's such — yes, I know, I felt this — there's such an awakening that is happening. Brothers and sisters, all of us, this lifetime, we have come and we have said, enough already.

I want to know God. I want to know what is good. Because we've all taken human lifetimes over and over and suffered. And we've come this time and we've said, okay, I know there's suffering, but I want to know the good part of it. I want to know the friendship, you know, that reaches out and hugs and smiles. And the beauty, the treasure in the smile. You can't put a price on that. It's enough to make you go home and say, hey, it's been a good day today. Right. So thanks for sharing. He is saying that we still have some time left if you You want to open it to questions? Anybody got a question? Okay, he's here.

Question from Participant: Apparently, it seems to me that if I ask you a question, you would have an answer. If I'm wondering about a person anywhere on the planet, it seems to me that you would be able to provide an answer about that person. Yes? This is mind-boggling.

Jeshua: That is because your mind is like this. But take heart. You and all of you so gathered in this afternoon are opening and acknowledging that there is much more to life than what I thought there was, just in what I could see and feel and touch and taste, perhaps. There's much more than that. And you have said, "That is the gift of Spirit", and it is to give to you as much as you are willing to accept. Because in truth, beloved ones, it is out there in front of you, willing, just waiting for your willingness to take it, to enjoy it. Because it is you who is putting together what you see to be your life, as a human life, and there is more.

Why do you think your advertisers get the feeling of the advertising catchy phrases that you come away remembering? Because there are certain ones who speak to the truth of you, and there is more. They're talking about their product. But you are saying, "And there's more!" Wow!

You read in your holy book and you think, this is good, but I don't understand it all. And then someone will come up to you out of the blue, seemingly, and they will say, "I just finished reading this other book. This is so good. Here, you want to try reading? This just turned me on." And, you know, that'll happen. And you begin to read. You say, "Yeah, this is what I was looking for. I wanted to know more." It is a gifting.

And you do this with your friends, your neighbors, ones that you are interactive with, even the one that you may read or see and talk with on the bus, the transport from one place to another. You look at that person and, "I know you. There's something about you that feels like I know you." And you may not put it into words because they're going to think you're kind of strange. But you smile at them and then you get to talking. And before you know it, you've decided to give each other the phone numbers in case, we know you want to talk more about this. We'll talk.

And I have seen you do this. And someone may say, "Well, I'm just visiting a friend of mine. I'm really from New York City." But you can keep in contact any place on Holy Mother Earth. And there is much of sharing, much of wealth, richness that you can share because you've had years of this lifetime and calling upon what you remember from other lifetimes, if you accept that theory, and you have a wealth of, well, this is what I have experienced, well, this is what I have experienced. And then you meet another person and you say, we were just talking about such and such. "Oh, yeah, you know, I've thought about that." And off you go again.

So by taking thought towards another person, wherever they might be, even if we've completely lost track of each other, by thinking of them, I can actually send energy to them and receive from them knowledge of their well-being, their state. There is an exchange that is possible. There is no separation.

Like that slowly sinking in? Some of you have harder heads than others. —I jest with you. —But yes. But it works. It works, exactly. That is the gifting, the treasure, because there is no separation. I speak this over and over to the place of ad nauseum, as they say. Which I don't think is a good term for it, but anyway, to the place where it begins to sink in that I and my brother, I and my sister are one.

And yes, I can understand what they are going through because I've been through it, either this lifetime or somehow another lifetime, and I know how that feels. And yes, my heart goes out to them. And I can say to them, because I've experienced it. This too shall pass. Yes, even the crucifixion. It came up one day, it's not exactly gone the next, but it was a passing experience.

And you all, as you have been experiencing, you are going through your own crucifixions every day of old habits, old thoughts, old beliefs about what even the human life was supposed to be. It's like, I thought I was supposed to suffer. I thought that suffering was a mark of maturity. And I wanted to be mature, but I don't want to suffer. Yeah, exactly. Why beat yourself up? Exactly. Rejoice is my message, my gifting. Rejoice. You are the Christ incarnate. You have at your disposal everything to live a happy life. Even if you are sitting as the beggar on the street corner and you cannot even get up and walk, you have within you, the Christ, knowing that I can smile. I can be happy. And in fact, I will share with you in the lifetimes that I did my begging. And I did. Try it. You might like it.

In truth, you've already been there. But I found that in the lifetimes as the beggar, as I would focus upon the gifting that was in it, more, more, more would come to me, to the place where I could actually stand up and have the robe maker make me a new robe, and I could go out and intermingle. And I thought, it's a miracle. And truly, the shift in consciousness is the miracle. It's where you wake up and you realize, I am my father's child. I receive, and you do, that which I ask for, and you do.

So be careful what you ask for. You've heard that saying, because you're going to get it. You're going to experience it. So allow yourself to know, I am my father's inheritor, and I want only the good experiences and the love. I want to live in love. And you have found I know for many of you, you have reached bottom, where you have felt like, I don't know where I'm going from here. I don't think it's really good. And then something has happened, and you said, well, actually, this day was really good, and that friend that I made today, I really felt one-on-one with that friend. And then there were two, and then there were three, and then four, and a whole group of friends. Wow!

I am so rich as my father's child, mother's child, whichever. I have been brought to task about that, not only just the father. That was from a time when society put all of the power into the male form. And I know there are women who have said, hmm, that doesn't work with me.

And there's more? More and more and more. Thank you for that. Every time I think I'm waking up some, I realize that Yeshua has gone ahead a bit.

Question from Participant: It's a lot to look forward to. I think, correct me if I'm wrong, but the reason why we all came was to anchor heaven upon earth. And it will be known across the earth. We are in that birthing process. Right?

Jeshua: It can be seen as painful from time to time when you look at what brothers and sisters are doing to each other. And to the animal life and so forth. And you think, how can heaven ever come out of this? And yet, it is emerging. These are the birth pangs happening now, as ones such as you are waking up and realizing that the Christ is embodied in every form, whether it be the winged ones, or it be the four-footed ones, or it be the ones that don't have wings or whatever. Life is a blessing. And so you go forth rejoicing in every day, saying, "Wow, I am so fortunate that I can be experiencing the Christ that I am, coming alive in happiness, reaching out and hugging one and saying, 'Hey, we are one!' Not only in the hug, but in the spirit. We are one. We are home." And this is a realization of home is where you're planted. Home is right here. Yes, exactly. Home is right here.

And now, beloved ones, it has been my joy, yes, to be amongst you in this way. To be able to play with the ideas of the mind, to come alive in spirit, to love, to look eye to eye with ones and know that truly that Christ is alive and well. So be it.
